

Getting to the National Cathedral

The Cathedral is located at the intersection of Massachusetts and Wisconsin Avenues in northwest Washington, D.C.

The Cathedral parking garage is accessible off Wisconsin Avenue. Saturday 6 a.m.–11 p.m. $4 flat rate. ParkingInfo@cathedral.org or 202-537-5513.

By car

- Take I-95 to I-495 west, the Capital Beltway.
- Exit south on Wisconsin Avenue.
- The Cathedral is approximately 6½ miles on the left.

Washington Metro

The WMATA (Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority) has information on its website, including an interactive trip planner that can provide information specific to your itinerary.

Metro Information:

Web site: www.wmata.com

Phone: 202-637-7000 TDD: 202-638-3780

Due to the way Metro has chosen to list the Cathedral in its system, please be sure to use one of the following phrases when typing the inquiry into the METRO Trip Planner:

“Washington Cathedral” or “3101 Wisconsin Ave. NW.”

Helpful Tip

For savings, we suggest obtaining a bus transfer at the station where you first board the Metro (subway) train. A transfer dispensing machine is usually located after the Farecard gate but before the escalator to the platform. This will usually result in a free or reduced fare transfer when switching to a Metrobus after the subway ride.

From Tenleytown

- Take the Metro Red Line to the Tenleytown/AU station.
- Exit on the west side of Wisconsin Avenue.
- Take any "30" series bus (#30, #32, #34 or #36) going south on Wisconsin Avenue.
- Ride approximately 1½ miles south on Wisconsin Avenue to the Cathedral. (This is a downhill walk, if you prefer to walk).

Bus Parking

Groups arriving in a larger vehicle, such as a motorcoach (tour bus), mini-bus, 15-passenger van or other oversized vehicle, must park in the Cathedral bus parking garage. Contact Charles Fulcher, group visit coordinator, to reserve bus parking. groups@cathedral.org or 202-537-6207 ext. 5.
